COUNTY FIREMEN WILL MEET HERE

Formation of County Association Is Planned for Gathering of Firefighters on April 12.

INTEREST IS SPREADING

Gettysburg Firemen Visited Littlestown Company Tuesday Evening and Found Them In Favor of Plan.

Following their program of creating interest in the formation of a county firemen's association, forty six members of the Gettysburg Fire Company visited Alpha Fire Company, of Littlestown, Tuesday evening. Following a brief business session, the meeting was turned into a social affair when addresses were made by a number of Gettysburg firemen, in which the plans for the new organization were outlined and to which responses were made by several members of the Littlestown Company. They expressed themselves heartily in favor of the organization of all the departments of the county and plan to attend the organization meeting which will be held in Gettysburg, Wednesday, April 12.

Plans are now being shaped for a big firemen's meeting here on that date, and a large hall will be secured so that all the visiting firemen can be accommodated. Already the Littlestown and Biglerville Companies have heartily fallen in with the plans for the formation of a County Association and will be present at this meeting with large delegations of members. Invitations have been sent to the firemen of New Oxford, McSherrystown, Bendersville, East Berlin, Arendtsville and Fairfield, to join in the movement, and it is altogether probable that they will send representatives to the big gathering.

Efforts are now being made by the local committee in charge of the arrangements to have H. O. Holstine, of Harrisburg, president of the State Firemen's Association, here and make an address at this meeting. It has also been planned to give a demonstration of the Boyd motor fire truck on Centre Square at 7 o'clock on that evening for the benefit of the visiting firemen. All departments are now interested in motor fire apparatus, and there are already several fine pieces in the county. The Littlestown company has a handsome La France chemical truck, which attracted much attention from the Gettysburg firemen on the occasion of their visit, Tuesday evening. Following the social session at Littlestown, refreshments and (Continued on Fifth)

BANK STOCK SOLD WELL

Five Shares of Gettysburg National Bank Brought $120 Per Share.

Public sale of local bank stock was held Tuesday afternoon in front of the Hotel Gettysburg when five shares of Gettysburg National Bank stock were sold at $120 per share. This is a new record for this stock, the par value of which is $50. Recent sales have been made at which the maximum price has been $115 per share. At the same time ten shares of First National Bank stock was sold at $220 per share. The stock of this bank, par value $100, has been sold recently at higher figures. Three shares of this stock were also withdrawn at insufficient bids. James Caldwell was the auctioneer.

PRACTICING FOR PLAY

The cast of characters for the play, "Clarence", by Booth Tarkington, to be presented April 25 for the benefit of the Gettysburg Fire Company, are now practicing. The comedy was to have been presented before Lent, but delay in receiving the books made it necessary to postpone the presentation until after Easter.

FARM WEATHER REPORT

For Eastern Pennsylvania: cloudy tonight. Thursday unsettled and somewhat warmer followed by rain. Moderate easterly winds.

COMING soon: the senior class of Arendtsville Vocational School will present their play entitled "A Poor Married Man". It is a farce comedy in three acts and will be presented at Bendersville Saturday evening, April 8th.—advertisement 1

SENTENCE ONCE MORE POSTPONED

Charles Scandalis, Noted Bootlegger, Gains Delay In U. S. Court.

Upon the special request of United States Attorney-General Daugherty the case of Charles H. Scandalis, of Mechanicsburg, convicted bootlegger, was postponed in the United States Court at Baltimore Tuesday.

Scandalis has been implicated in several episodes in Adams county in the past two years.

Scandalis, who is alleged to have been a big figure in the bootlegging world before his arrest in the Belvedere Hotel late in 1920, has been up for sentence repeatedly since his conviction, but upon each occasion prohibition officials or officials of the Attorney-General's office have asked for delays. It is a well-known fact that he has been not only aiding the prohibition flying squad of Washington, but has been carrying some sort of credentials which made it possible for him to testify in cases.

Leniency Is Asked

District Attorney Carman was visited last Saturday by Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, an assistant in the office of Attorney-General Daugherty, who advised that the court be requested to be lenient with Scandalis.

Scandalis was scheduled to come before Judge Rose for sentence Tuesday morning, but his name was not called out in court. In fact, he did not even put in his appearance. United States District Attorney Carman, when asked concerning his failure to appear, replied that he had been requested "by the Attorney-General to postpone the case until Thursday morning".

It was only recently that a minister's association of Pennsylvania made a protest against the government's act in engaging Scandalis in prohibition work.

ARREST AUTO THIEVES HERE

Private Goucher Uncovers Plot To Make Away With Large Touring Car at Thomasville.

Private Goucher, of the local substation of State Police Baltimore street, arrested a young man at 6:30 o'clock this morning on a charge of larceny of gasoline from the station of William Zinkand on the York Pike. The young man gave his name as Anthony Berbrick, of Ridgewood, Brooklyn, New York, and his age as twenty years. He stated that he was hiking with another young man to the West where they intended to become cow boys. Tuesday night they slept in a large touring car which was found apparently abandoned near the oil station, but this morning his companion decided that he had had enough of the journey and started on the return trip to Philadelphia. He evidently gained passage in a passing automobile. As search for him proved of no avail.

When charged with the larceny of the gasoline, young Berbrick stated that "he wanted to hear the engine of the big machine run and had therefore procured a quantity of gas from the station nearby." However he was unsuccessful in his efforts to start the car and was placed under arrest before he could make his get-away.

Further investigation of the young man revealed that he was a bakers' helper by trade and papers in his clothing contained the information that he was but 18 years of age. He was placed in the county jail to await a hearing and in the meantime further investigation as to the ownership of the machine is being made.

That the car was stolen, was established by investigation, which revealed the owner as being Jonas H. Myers, of Thomasville. A signed confession secured from Berbrick is to the effect that he with Joseph C. Holtzline, took the car from Mr. Myers' garage about 11 o'clock Tuesday night. Mr. Myers was summoned to Gettysburg today and identified the machine as his property. Holtzline, who is still at liberty, will be arrested before long, it is thought by the officers working on (Continued on Second)

PLAYGROUND MAY NOT BE OPENED

School Board Has Not Decided On Plans For the Summer.

EQUIPMENT IS THERE

But Funds For Operating Park Are Scarce. Suggest Formation of Tennis Club and Repair Courts.

Just what is to be done with the Kurtz Memorial Playground, now owned by the school board of this district, is a question that probably will come to the attention of the board at their regular monthly meeting Thursday evening. Many residents of the town feel that since the equipment and well laid out grounds are here a small appropriation of funds should be made to operate the recreation park and in this sentiment members of the school board agree. Directors, however, find the finances of the district are at a low ebb and it is doubtful if any money will be voted toward opening the playground.

For several years funds were raised to maintain the place as a recreation center. Early in 1921 William Kurtz, of Philadelphia, donor of the grounds, offered to place the fund in the hands of the school board to use as they saw fit. Last summer the park was open, but because there was no one in charge few children were allowed to go there. The tennis courts were not cared for. The High School Athletic Association kept the baseball diamond in good condition.

Last summer tennis developed into the most popular sport here and those interested in the game have suggested that a tennis association be formed and permission of the school board be secured to repair the five tennis courts at the playground. These courts are well constructed and could be placed in first class condition by the expenditure of a few dollars it is believed. Last summer the college courts were thronged with players from early afternoon until dark and the plan suggested is to enroll everyone into a club for the purpose of maintaining the playground courts. The only charges suggested would be a nominal entrance fee. It is estimated the five courts could be cleared of weeds, rolled and taped for about $40. The High School Athletic Association has offered to start the tennis fund with a contribution of $5 and others desiring to support the movement may do so by sending the money to Walter D. Rey.—(Continued on Third)

SAY WOMAN IS INSANE

Petition Filed For Removal Of Mrs. Heagy.

A petition asking for the appointment of a commission of three persons to examine the mental condition of Mrs. Sallie Heagy, now in the custody of the sheriff pending a hearing on a charge of murdering her husband, Irvin Heagy, at their home near Abbotstown, on March 24, has been presented. The petition sets forth the sheriff's judgment that she is insane, and Steward Oscar Atland, of the almshouse, where the woman is confined, holds the same opinion. Judge Wanner took the papers and will make a ruling later.

SCHOOL BULLETIN OUT

Summer Courses at College More Extensive This Year.

The summer school bulletin of Gettysburg College is now being sent out to prospective students. The school this summer will be operated on a larger scale than ever before. Twelve teachers will compose the corps of instructors and the regular college courses will be given. In addition work in teacher training has been added to the schedule. Indications are that the school will be well attended.

SCOUTS TO CAMP OUT

Only two more vacancies exist in the roster of the Second Troop Boy Scouts of America here. Thirty boys are now enrolled. New members have been added regularly since the troop was organized a year ago. Plans are already underway for the members to join the Chester Boy Scouts at the summer camp, near Laurel Dam, Cumberland county. Dr. Frank Kramer, of the College faculty, is scoutmaster.

ADDITION MADE TO CEMETERY

Tract of Nine Acres Laid Out In Lots and Extensively Planted.

The new section of Evergreen Cemetery has been opened and lots are now ready for sale. This new portion was purchased by the Cemetery Board recently, when a tract of about 18 acres was acquired, adjoining the present burying ground, on the south and extending along the Baltimore pike. About nine acres of this tract has been laid out in lots and extensively planted with all varieties of shade trees and shrubbery.

The planting of this section was done by the Berryhill Nursery Company, of Harrisburg, last fall. All varieties of evergreens have been used and among the shade trees are to be found varieties that have beautiful foliage and develop a variety of colors at various times in the fall. The Board is also considering planting a hedge along the pike, continuing that which now encloses the old section of the Cemetery. Many dogwood trees were also used in the planting and this portion of the Cemetery promises to be even more attractive than the older part.

The necessity for acquiring more ground became apparent several years ago, and now there is not a vacant lot in the older part of the cemetery, although there remains much space on lots which have been sold. During recent years, there has been an average of about sixty lots sold each year, so that it was absolutely necessary to acquire more space. Avenues have been laid out in the new section of Evergreen Cemetery and the Board plans to construct a stone road through it this summer.

Prices for the new lots have not as yet been determined but of necessity will have to be somewhat higher than those of the older portion, in order to carry along the work without a deficit. The Board of Directors are anxious to sell lots endowed, at least in the greater part of this portion. Formerly the price for an endowed lot was $75, which at the present time is entirely inadequate and the price will probably be higher in future sales.

This new portion of the town burying ground will no doubt in time become a very beautiful spot, for it lays especially well, sloping gently to the south and with the extensive planting which was done last fall, will soon develop as the trees and shrubbery make more growth. The contour is even more attractive than that of the old portion as there are no sharp knolls in the tract and the slope is gentle and interesting.

HONOR TOWN PASTOR

Rev. Harry Daniels Guest at New Oxford Reception.

Members of the New Oxford Methodist Episcopal church gave a reception Tuesday evening in honor of their pastor, Rev. Harry Daniels, who was recently returned to the charge. Nearly one hundred persons were present. Charles Miller, representing the Sunday School; John Blair, representing the official board of the church, and Elwood Myers, representing the Epworth League, made short addresses expressing the appreciation of the congregation at the return of Dr. Daniels. In his response Mr. Daniels said the sentiments expressed by the speakers were mutual. Refreshments were served.

RE-SURFACING HIGHWAYS

Roads Into Gettysburg Will be Repaired Early.

Work of re-surfacing the Lincoln Highway between New Oxford and Abbotstown has been started and will be completed, it is expected, before the heavy tourist travel starts. Repairs to other sections of the Lincoln Highway between Gettysburg and York will be made during the summer. Next week, work on rebuilding the Baltimore Pike between here and Littlestown will be started. The work on the Lincoln Highway and the Baltimore Pike will be under the supervision of W. J. Flemming, of the local state highway office.

ON Friday, April 7th, at one o'clock there will be Public Sale at the Eagle Hotel of household furniture, mattresses, comforts and many useful articles.—advertisement 1

BIG FOUR HAS NO PART IN STRIKE

Brotherhoods Reach An Agreement With Western Maryland Over Many Disagreements.

ACTION WEAKENS STRIKE

Effect of Strike of Shopmen in Hagerstown Further Reduced by Arrival of More Strike Breakers.

Word that the "Big Four" Brotherhoods had come to an agreement with the Western Maryland Railway Company over numerous differences arising since the shopmen's strike in Hagerstown, thereby averting a strike of the transportation employees, was received with anything but enthusiasm by some of the union shop leaders who are directing the strike from headquarters in Hagerstown. It was evident from various expressions heard in union circles that the shopmen are disappointed, for they realized that their fight against the railroad would be made much easier if the transportation unions were also on strike.

However, there were no indications of a break in the lines of the strikers and Tuesday passed very quietly. More workers were taken to Hagerstown on the noon train from Baltimore and they passed through the picket lines without so much as a murmur from the strikers.

Both sides appear to be awaiting the outcome of the hearing to be held before Judge Rose in Baltimore on Friday, when the Dickinson Construction & Repair Company and the Western Maryland Railway Company will seek to have the temporary restraining order of the Judge made a permanent one.

The sixteen hostlers, ordered to return to work by the Firemen's Union, went back to work on Tuesday morning under the old wage scale and rules. They will receive 62 cents an hour for eight hours work. According to President Byers, the hostlers were originally made a part of the contracts we made to have repair work and maintenance-of-way work done by contractors and not by the railroad. The members of the "Big Four" protested. Our agreement with the contractors was such that we could have these hostlers eliminated from the contract and that has been done. They have been made employees of the company and are being paid the wages prescribed by the Railway Labor Board.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Miss Henrietta Hersh Will be The Bride of Donald B. Baxter.

An informal bridge party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hersh, Baltimore street, this afternoon when the engagement of Miss Henrietta Hersh to Donald B. Baxter, of New York city, was announced.

FUNERAL ON THURSDAY

Funeral services for Rosemary Angeline King, aged one year, who died Tuesday morning, will be held Thursday morning at the house at 9:30 with further services in the St. Francis Church, Rev. Mark Stock officiating. Interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

MURDER YOUTH WITH AXE

(By Associated Press)
Concordia, Kansas, April 5.—Theodore Tremblay, 18-year-old farm boy was slain with an axe and three younger brothers and the father, L. J. Tremblay, a trustee of Shirley township, were injured by unknown assailants in their home near here late last night. Three of the younger boys are near death with their heads crushed.

DEMOCRATIC MAYOR

(By Associated Press)
Hartford, Conn., April 5.—Richard J. Kinsella, Democrat, was elected mayor of Hartford yesterday, succeeding a Republican and with him most of the Democratic ticket was carried into office. The Democrats elected 8 out of 10 aldermen but the common council will remain Republican by 11-9.

FIRE APPARATUS FOR ORPHANAGE

Rev. Stein, of York, Makes Deal With Council For Purchase of Needed Equipment.

Through the efforts of Rev. Samuel H. Stein, pastor of Trinity First Reformed Church, York, the Hoffman Orphanage, near Littlestown, will be adequately equipped with fire fighting apparatus. Recently a chemical truck was purchased for the institution from proceeds of the offering taken at Trinity Church at the annual firemen's service held a year ago and on Tuesday the Rev. Mr. Stein made application to the York city council and purchased equipment from one of the fire companies of that city which was to be discarded and replaced by new and later devices.

The purchase included ladders and fire extinguishers which were taken from the chemical truck of the Goodwill Fire Company, which had been ordered dismantled and sold by the city council. The deal was made by the Rev. Mr. Stein, who is chaplain of the York Fire Department, whereby he secures possession of this property for the consideration of $1.

Council felt on the plea of the minister that the equipment was badly needed by the Orphanage and would have brought but a few dollars in its present state that they were performing a worthy deed by presenting the equipment for so small a consideration and accepted the minister's offer.

In return for the acceptance of his bid for the equipment, the Rev. Mr. Stein extended to the councilmen an invitation to attend the annual service of the city firemen this year, to be held in Trinity Church, April 30. The council immediately acted on the invitation and decided to accept it.

DIPHTHERIA CAUSES DEATH OF CHILD

Youngest Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hess Died Suddenly.

Byrda May Hess, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hess, died this morning at 3:50 o'clock at the home of her parents, on 239 Charles street, from diphtheria. She was aged 9 years, one month and 21 days.

The child had not been in school since last Friday, but only complained of a cold. Her condition was not regarded as serious until Tuesday evening, when a physician was called. The illness was diagnosed as diphtheria. The little girl was one of the first children in the schools to take the Schick test and physicians this morning declared the records of the tests had been examined and showed hers was positive. She was a student in the third grade at the High street building.

Surviving are the parents and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. Charles M. Sheely, West Middle street; Mrs. O. W. Beitler, Cumberland township; Mrs. Donald E. Himes, Chicago, Illinois; Pinkney B. Hess and Selmora H. Hess, both of Baltimore street; Atwood B. C. Brooke, Joseph H. and Hannah J., all at home.

Burial Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Evergreen cemetery, Rev. J. B. Baker officiating at the committal.

ASKS ROADS BE GIVEN A CHANCE

Willard Says Private Ownership Is Solution To Transportation Problem.

TOO MUCH INTERFERENCE

President of Baltimore and Ohio Declares Roads Were Not Turned Back By Government in Better Condition.

Washington, April 5.—Private operations of railroads promises to solve the transportation problem if the carriers are given "a fair chance" Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad stated today before the Senate Interstate Commerce commission in continuing his statement begun yesterday in reply to government ownership statements of William G. McAdoo, former director general of railroads. Mr. Willard declared nothing had been developed to show that Congress erred in returning the roads to their owners.

"What the country needs more than anything else at the present time," he asserted, "is an opportunity under the terms of the transportation act to work out their problems without unnecessary and burdensome interference and I have the utmost confidence that they will successfully surmount their present difficulties if given a fair chance to do so. I am also confident that they will provide the people of this country with adequate transportation at reasonable rates and lower rates than are to be found for similar service in any other country in the world."

Mr. Willard emphasized that in 1920 after the termination of federal control the railroads carried 2 per cent more freight than while in charge of the government. Contentions of Mr. McAdoo that the government returned the roads in better condition than when they were taken over was denied by Mr. Willard, who said the carriers' contention that their condition was depreciated had an important bearing upon future rates. Mr. Willard presented detailed evidence in the case of the Baltimore and Ohio to show that the condition of cars, locomotives and roadway was not as good when federal control ended as when the line was taken over.

STOCK REPORT

Trading Falls Away. Rails Remain Listless.

(By Associated Press)
New York, April 5.—Early promise of another very busy day on the stock exchange was not fulfilled. Trading during the morning fell away more than fifty per cent from yesterday's enormous dealings and spectacular features were altogether lacking. Oils, coppers, motors and rubbers were in steady demand and sugars strengthened their early position. Sear-Roeback, Associated Dry Goods, Industrial Alcohol and several of the minor equipments showed firmness. Rails remained listless. Call money opened at 4 1/2 per cent.

FEWER UNEMPLOYED

Conditions Throughout Country Continue To Improve

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 5.—Employment conditions throughout the country continue to improve according to reports received during the past 10 days by the president's conference on unemployment, Arthur Woods, chairman of the emergency commission, announced today.

"The upward trend," Mr. Woods said, "while not great still continues to hold with the number of jobs available slightly increased coupled with corresponding decrease with number of applicants—a most hopeful sign."

BROKERS BANKRUPT

(By Associated Press)
New York April 5.—Alleging liabilities of $125,000 and assets of $50,000 three creditors today filed an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against F. D. Kinnally and Company, stock brokers. The firm is an "outside house" with no exchange connections and deals chiefly in oil shares.

ON Friday, April 7th, at one o'clock there will be Public Sale at the Eagle Hotel of household furniture, mattresses, comforts and many useful articles.—advertisement 1

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE PLAYED

Charges of Open Violation of Corrupt Practices Act Made In House.

CALLS A LAW BREAKER

Representative Tinkham Charges That Money Was Spent In Many Elections With No Return, as Is Required.

Washington, April 5—Demand for investigations by the department of Justice of charges that the Anti-Saloon League of America had failed to report campaign expenditures as required by the Corrupt Practices Act was made in the House yesterday by Representative Tinkham, Republican, of Massachusetts.

Making the charges himself, Mr. Tinkham declared it would be "absolutely futile" to expect an investigation by Congress because of "the complete control of the House by the Anti-Saloon League, and its abject obedience to the dictates of the league."

Mr. Tinkham charged specifically that the league had violated the corrupt practices act by not making returns from 1910, the year of the law's enactment, until 1920; by not giving the names and addresses of all persons receiving $10 or more in the returns filed by Wayne B. Wheeler, its general counsel, "under protest" in 1920, and by the non-reporting under the act of branches of the league in West Virginia, Maryland, Wisconsin, Colorado, Oregon and Iowa.

"Complete failure" also was charged by the Massachusetts House member "to file returns with the clerk of the House of numerous other State branches of the league which received or disbursed money in connection with the Congressional election in 1920, notably the States of New York, Pennsylvania and Minnesota."

"The records of the clerk of the House disclose a failure of the league and its subsidiaries to obey Federal statutes, not only in one case, but in many," Mr. Tinkham declared.

Quote League Leader

The Massachusetts member said he desired to "draw attention" to a leaflet recently issued by Parker Shields, superintendent of the Tennessee Anti-Saloon League, asking for contributions, which, he said, contained this statement:

"A number of Congressmen who hold the balance of power and pile up majorities in Congress, come from the Southern and Western States where money for organization and educational purposes is scarce. They always had to have help from the National League."

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

Made in Murder Case of Curtis Siple in York Court.

Curtis Siple, convicted at the October term of criminal court for the murder of two fellow laborers in a shack at Cly, York county, was brought before Judge Wanner Monday at the argument of a motion for a new trial. The main reason advanced was that the testimony did not show that the homicide was wilful, deliberate and premeditated and therefore the conviction should not have been for more than a second degree murder. Judge Wanner will hand down a written decision later. George S. Love appeared for Siple and the commonwealth was represented by C. W. A. Rochow.

ELECTIONS IN WEST

Democrats and Republicans Victorious In Missouri. (By Associated Press)

Kansas City, Mo., April 5—In municipal elections throughout Missouri yesterday both Democrats and Republicans gained victories. At Kansas City belated returns continued to increase the lead of the Democratic ticket which, headed by Frank Cromwell for mayor, was swept into office by majorities ranging from 1,000 to 12,000. In Jefferson City the Democrats elected four or five candidates for aldermen and carried the city by nearly 500. Returns from St. Joseph say they elected a Republican mayor and whole Republican ticket with the exception of auditor and treasurer.

TO STOP CLOSE DANCING

Couples at public dances who engage in the tiddle, cheek to cheek and other evolutions not conforming to the ideas of York's new policewoman, Miss Mabel Rozelle, will be stopped in the centre of the floor and reprimanded, no matter how embarrassing it may be to them, Miss Rozelle has announced. She stated that thus far she had confined her efforts to approaching such couples after dances and advising them of the impropriety of their dancing, but had found that little heed was given to her advice.

DRIFTING MINE IN PATH TO EUROPE

Warning of Its Presence Broadcast By Radio To Mariners At Sea.

Washington, D. C., April 5—A drifting mine was sighted Monday directly in the pathway charted for liners plying between Boston and Europe. Warning of its presence was immediately sent by radio broadcast by the hydrographic office of the Navy Department to all mariners.

The vessel, one of the 5000 which furnish such information to the hydrographic office which reported the mine, gave its position as latitude 40 degrees, 18 minutes west, longitude 52 degrees, 56 minutes north.

The location is south of the Grand Banks and west of the junction at sea where ships bound from Europe to Boston leave the track of the Europe-New York liners and bear almost due west into port.

Since January 1, 1921, eight floating mines which drifted from the remaining mine fields of the war overseas have been definitely reported to the hydrographic office in the North Atlantic area immediately off the American coast. During the same period two mines were reported off the southern part of the American coast.

There were reported and charted by the hydrographic service from January 1, 1921, to March 29, 1922, no less than 121 floating mines, while six additional mines were reported before the 1921 date. Twenty-seven of these were in the "high sea area" and the remainder either off the American coast, in the Azores area, the European area, the Baltic or the Mediterranean.

Post-War Menace Serious.

The extent of this post-war menace to shipping was brought out in recent correspondence between the Hydrographic Office and a New England shipper who had written to learn what ground there was for the continuing by marine insurance companies of rates based on the danger of floating mines.

COMMUNITY DAY TO BE OBSERVED

Arendtsville Vocational School to Hold Demonstrations for Patrons On Friday.

The annual community day at the Arendtsville Vocational School will be observed Friday with a program beginning in the morning and continuing throughout the day. The schedule for the day includes talks and demonstrations by the home economics and agriculture departments.

The first two periods of the morning will be devoted to class work and patrons are being invited especially to inspect the work being done in the schools.

In the afternoon the usual athletic and academic contests will be held for the students of the eighth grades of Menallen, Butler and Franklin townships and Arendtsville borough. These will consist of competitions in arithmetic, spelling and declamation for the academic work and 100 yard dash, one-half mile relay, high jump, broad jump and baseball throw for the athletic side. Students of the schools of the three townships have been invited to participate in the contests.

In the evening the Whittier Literary Society will present a special program, including a one-act play.

In addition to the usual program a poultry show will be staged by the boys of the poultry husbandry class of the school. Experts in home economics and agriculture from State College are expected to be present to assist in the demonstrations.

The local State Police stole a beat on detectives from York, who were working on the case and on learning of the recovery of the car came to Gettysburg at noon today. They had information to the effect that these young men, were actually from Pittsburgh, although Berbrick declares that their homes are in Brooklyn. The York officers state that they are a pair of expert automobile thieves.

WILL PROBABLY FIX ROAD

State Highway Through Waynesboro May Be Repaired.

A letter received recently by Roy J. D. Hoover, chairman of the good roads committee of the Waynesboro Motor Club, gives additional assurance that work is to be pushed this summer on the state highway through Waynesboro, formerly the Waynesboro, Greencastle and Mercersburg turnpike. This work was received from Richard C. Haldeman, Harrisburg, chairman of the good roads committee of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation.

MOVE FOR PARLEY TO END STRIKE

First Move Made By Congress When Chairman Nolan Sends Telegrams.

CONFERENCE IS PROPOSED

Operators Are Invited To Confer With Union Officials In Washington On Monday, April 10.

Washington, April 5—A Congressional effort at settlement of the coal strike, particularly as it involves the bituminous fields, was begun Tuesday, when Chairman Nolan of the House Labor Committee was authorized to telegraph invitations to a number of representative operators and officers of operators' organization in the central competitive coal fields to attend a meeting with the Miners' Union leaders in Washington April 10 and attempt to reach an agreement.

At the same time Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, took occasion to say in the Senate that "drastic public action" might be demanded and to charge the operators with contract breaking in precipitating the strike.

A possible divergence between the views of members of Congress and those of the Administration, however, was seen when Attorney General Daugherty issued a statement reiterating that "the Government is not undertaking to do anything in the present situation of the coal matter," declaring that "men have a right to quit work and men have a right to employ other men," that the public was not menaced with coal shortage and that it was the duty of local authorities to maintain order.

Frown On Increases

The government would not look with favor upon coal price increases. Mr. Daugherty said, adding that he "saw no reason at this time to believe that disorder need be feared," but asserting that the government "will perform whatever may be its duty in the premises" if local and state agencies cannot maintain peace.

The House committee action came after its members had spent two days listening to discussion of the strike from the miners viewpoint by John L. Lewis, President of the United Mine Workers. Mr. Lewis assured the committee he would advise his associates to negotiate with any "representative group" of operators from the central field, which includes Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Western Pennsylvania, even though not all the operators could be induced to deal again with the union. The union, he insisted, would not and could not settle the dispute in other states until this basis had been established for a national wage level.

TO TRANSPORT WHISKEY

Stock Subscribed on Promise of Big Dividends.

Newark, N. J., April 5—Postal authorities have issued an order to stop all mail addressed to the American Whiskey Trading Company, a firm which plans to form a company with a capital stock of $400,000 to transport whiskey from Liverpool, England, to the three mile limit, from the arid coast of America. The letter inviting subscriptions to the stock and suggesting a return of $225 on a $10 investment was given to the postal authorities by a church member of Paterson. According to the letter, they plan to operate three vessels monthly between England and the three mile limit of this country carrying cargoes of whiskey. No risk is attached to the business, it is pointed out in the letter, as the whiskey is sold for cash to rum runners outside of the three mile limit, where it will not be subject to the law of this country, at an estimated price of $50 a case.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES

Seven per cent. of the farmers in Pennsylvania employed female household help last year.

The condition of wheat in the ground on March 1 was 92 per cent. compared with normal, and is approximately the same as one year ago.

Sixteen per cent. of the farmers in this State stored ice during the past winter and is about double the number that stored ice during the winter of 1920-1921.

It appears that the number of flocks of sheep in Pennsylvania declined about three per cent. during the past year. This condition will change as the industry improves and takes on new life.

Approximately 57 per cent. of the farmers in the Keystone State have telephone connections. Conditions have not been favorable and there has been practically no extension of the lines during the past two years.

Estimates show that on March 1 the Pennsylvania farmers were holding 21 per cent., or 4,820,000 bushels, of the 1921 wheat crop; and 27 per cent., or 5,051,000 bushels of the potatoes.

SEARCH MADE FOR PYROMANIAC

Four Church Fires Arouse Suspicion. Same Person Caused Destruction of Ste. Anne's.

Montreal, April 5—Montreal police yesterday sought an anti-Catholic pyro-maniac as the author of the fire which Monday destroyed the Church of the Sacred Heart with a loss of $500,000.

Efforts will be made to connect him, if he is found, with fires in other churches and institutions, including the disastrous conflagration last week that destroyed the basilica at the famous shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre.

A fireman fighting the Church of the Sacred Heart fire, the police let it become known Tuesday, heard a man say:

St. Bridget's Next

"St. Bridget's will be the next, and then I will get the rest."

He fled before the fireman could seize him.

The man's description, it was said, corresponded with that of a man who attempted to burn the St. Vincent de Paul refuge two weeks ago.

A man of similar description sought to gain entrance to the deaf and dumb institute in St. Denis street a week ago, but was turned away by the mother superior, who became suspicious.

Crossed electric wires are the pyro-maniac suspect's method. Crossed wires caused the fires at Ste. Anne de Beaupre and in the Church of the Sacred Heart.

Fire Last December

Fire from the same cause broke out in the Church of the Sacred Heart last December, but was extinguished with slight loss.

A fire in St. Vincent de Paul's refuge was averted when an electrician discovered crossed wires shortly after a visit of a man posing as an electrician.

The man who sought admittance to the deaf and dumb institute posed as an electrician, came to inspect the wiring in the institution.

SCHOOL BOARD BANS SENIOR PLAY

Waynesboro High Seniors Punished for Prank of Last Year.

As a punishment for pranks played at the high school buildings last year, when they were juniors, the senior class of the Waynesboro high school will not be permitted to give a class play this year.

Final decision in this matter was arrived at by the school board at a special meeting Tuesday evening. It is understood the sentiment for such action was not unanimous, but the majority prevailed and the officers of the class learned today that their hopes for continuing a custom which has been current in the school for several years have been dashed.

Last spring while the 1921 senior class was preparing for its annual play, some members of the junior class, it is said, entered the school building and upset some of the paraphernalia that was to be used. In doing so some wires were cut and other damage done to the part of the building where the juniors operated.

Members of the class later admitted their part in the affair, basing their actions on a custom which has been more or less prevalent since the senior class play idea was first instituted. It was the claim of these young people that their motive was playful, but that perhaps they had overspread the bounds somewhat in their prank.

However, they informed the school authorities they were willing to pay for any damage they had done. A bill of costs was assessed against the youngsters and a collection was taken to pay it. The officers of the class hold the cancelled check which shows that everything was paid for.

FUNERAL ARRANGED

The funeral of John Sponseller, who died at the Warner Hospital, Tuesday morning, will be held on Thursday morning, services in the funeral parlors of H. B. Bender, followed by interment in Evergreen Cemetery, Rev. J. B. Baker, D. D., pastor of St. James Lutheran Church, officiating.

The deceased is survived by four sons, John Sponseller, Charles Sponseller, Frank and Eli Sponseller; also one daughter, Mrs. William Menchey, and one sister, Mrs. Louisa Freshman.

STUDENTS ON STRIKE

Protest Dismissal of One of Their Teachers.

Gloucester, N. J., April 5—Forty seven students of the Gloucester High School, members of the Senior and Sophomore classes, continued on strike today in protest of the dismissal of Professor William Catcher, whom, Superintendent of Schools Burns, charged with pursuing the study of hygiene a little too far. These students held a mass meeting last night and addressed a message to State Superintendent Enright to visit the school and settle the trouble. They then decided to return to school. This morning they met again at the railroad depot and after discussing the affair further, decided to remain on strike and paraded the streets of town.

The Value of Pure Milk Like many common things, the value of milk is not fully appreciated. It contains all the essential body building elements and will not overtax the digestive system.

Our government issues a bulletin in which it states that a quart of milk is the equivalent in energy of 11 ounces of sirloin steak, 8 1/2 eggs or 10 7/8 ounces of fowl.

Recent investigation has revealed startling conditions, showing a large percentage of under-nourished children. Nurses employed by our public schools have found under-nourished children in families where it was least expected.

Give your children plenty of pure milk, if you want to protect them against under-nourishment. More pure milk is needed by most families, and old and young alike will be benefited by its use.

The select dairy herds from which we get our supply of milk and cream are kept under sanitary conditions and we use the best means of sanitation in handling it, assuring a pure product for the babies.

nolds, treasurer of the association. Inability to arouse interest in the ex-ward league makes it doubtful if Gettysburg fans will be entertained this summer by home teams. There is a feeling that a Ward League should be organized, but the experience of 1920 when daylight saving was not in effect make it doubtful if a satisfactory playing time could be found. With the absence of baseball, sport lovers will turn to other athletic games, one of which will be tennis. The college courts are not available until the middle of June when the students have gone and tennis enthusiasts are urging a fund to provide quickly for the repair and taping of the playground courts so that the playing may be started shortly after the first of May when the season usually opens.

"No you won't," snapped Robert, moving in front of Pollyop. "I'll look after her myself, and if you folks want to stay friendly with me, just don't mention this." He held out the coat to Polly Hopkins. "Put it on," he ordered; and instantly she obeyed him. What he was going to do with her, Pollyop did not know, but this thing she did realize: Jerry could not see Daddy Hopkins that day. She longed to be back in the shanty, to get away from MacKenzie's flashing eyes and the haughty stare of Mrs. Robertson. As for Evelyn, she despised the quivering girl with all her straightforward self.

Frowning, Robert stepped to the door and called the conductor; and when the official appeared, Polly shivered to her toes. The very sight of his uniform suggested trouble for her and Jerry.

"A friend of mine came down to see us off," said Robert distinctly, making a gesture toward her. "The train started before she could get off. Just let us stop at MacKenzie's, will you?" He had a roll of bills in his fingers which he thrust into the officer's hand. Smilingly the man bowed and jerked the cord over his head.

"We're right there now, sir," said he. "Thanks," replied Robert. "Thanks;" and "Come," he said to Pollyop. Jerry! Daddy Hopkins' baby, went through her mind. Wee Jerry asleep under the cross seat!

"Wait a bit, mister," she faltered, "wait till I get the baby. I were takin' him up to see his daddy, so he wouldn't die." Her lip trembled as she looked at Mrs. Robertson. "Get up, please, ma'am," she begged. "He's under there, where you're sittin'!"

Mrs. Robertson and Evelyn rose immediately; and Polly pulled the shawl-bewrapped Jerry into full view. In another instant Robert had snatched up the child and pushed Polly out of the door. He turned about and looked back at the other three, a dreadful expression on his face.

"If you stick your finger in this, Mac," he said huskily, "you can say goodbye to me for good." And he followed Polly out of the train as it came to a stop.

MacKenzie's point was on the east side of the lake, about opposite the Hopkins shanty, and when Robert had helped Polly off the train and had seen it pull away north, he stood a moment considering how best to get her back home. He could not make the girl tramp back to Ithaca and then across the head of the lake to the Silent City.

"Stay here with the child," he said curtly. "I'll be back in a minute." Polly watched him dully as he strode away. When he returned, he had in his hand a large key with which he unfasted a boathouse on the shore. Almost before Pollyop sensed what was happening, she was in the stern of a boat with Jerry crouched down beside her, and Robert's strong arms were sending the craft swiftly across the lake. Not a word had been said between them un-

"Stay Here With the Child," He Said Curtly. "I'll Be Back in a Minute." All they drew up under the willow trees near Jeremiah's shack.

"Get out," exclaimed Robert, holding the boat that it might not tip.

Pollyop scrambled to the bow, bringing Jerry with her, the beautiful dress now hanging in limp folds around her feet. Very pale, Robert lifted her, almost fainting, from the boat, and picking Jerry up in his arms, walked ahead to the shanty.

In the terrible moment that Polly bent under his dark gaze, she felt she must tell him the truth. How could she let him go away thinking her twice a thief, besides believing Oscar Bennett had been her man?

She dared a timid glance at him.

"What in heaven's name can I do for you?" he demanded hoarsely. "You don't seem to have any honor at all! Can't I say something that would make you a better girl?"

Polly swayed and pushed back her curls. Her tired head fell forward on her chest, and she bit her tongue to keep back the rush of words.

"Get Wee Jerry back his Daddy Hopkins," she gulped presently, "an' an' I'll swear to be the goodest squatter's brat in the Silent City."

No smile answered her emphatic promise. Robert's face was white and severe, and he was studying her in silence.

"It does seem," he managed to say, "the more I plan and work, the worse things go."

He wanted to kiss the pale lovely face, to take her away from the settlement. He wanted to banish the last few months that, every time he thought of them, sent him dizzy with pain.

"I've tried my best to have your father released," he continued in low tones, "and I've tried not to love you at all. But I do want you to be good—I mean as good as you can."

Up went the curly head, and straight into his eyes she sent a piercing glance. One slender hand flung out toward him.

"Couldn't you trust me, sir?" she breathed. "Couldn't you just forget about—about—"

She advanced toward him, her hands extended and her face twitching nervously.

"Of course taking the dress doesn't matter to me," he choked. "Mr. MacKenzie is a very wicked man, and he has treated you abominably. But, but what hurts me so is the thought of the man who died in your—your home." His voice broke and, turning swiftly, he walked away.

Polly tried to call his name, but her throat made no sound. When he disappeared up the lane she picked Jerry up and, shivering, went into the shanty.

CHAPTER XIII

No more unhappy girl lived in all of Tompkins county than Polly Hopkins. Seemingly never-ending days dragged by their minutes one by one. When she woke up in the morning she wished it were night! When she crawled into bed she wished it were morning! And every twenty-four hours brought renewed anguish to Jerry. Pollyop spent most of her time trying to soothe him.

And thus the two little waifs lived until the news spread through the Silent City that Evelyn Robertson and Marcus MacKenzie were going to be married in a fashionable church in Ithaca.

The wedding day dawned bright with sunshine; and, together with Jerry, Pollyop went into town, hid herself in the thick shrubbery in Dewitt park and watched with tormented soul the gorgeous display of riches.

She saw Evelyn in all her beauty and the resplendent Marcus; also the haughty Mrs. Robertson, leaning on the arm of Robert Percival. How pale his face was! Great tears blinded Polly's eyes as she wondered vaguely and bewilderedly if he ever thought of her.

It was a long, sad night which she spent after that event, but still she lived on and carried her heavy burden in silence. Week by week she counted on her slender fingers the months which would have to be lived through before Daddy Hopkins could come home. Oh, how she wanted to steal into his arms, to lay her head against him and to be sure he was in the Silent City for ever and ever! Jerry must have him, too, and many were the promises she made to the child during the wild fall weather of the Storm country that perhaps tomorrow Daddy would come, perhaps the next day, until the child's face too gathered an expression as if he were always listening for footsteps outside the hut.

The autumn rains had no more than set in before Marcus MacKenzie took up again his persecutions of the squatters. On his return from his wedding trip he and Evelyn went to live with Mrs. Robertson for the winter.

One day Percival approached MacKenzie with another request that he use his influence to liberate Jeremiah Hopkins.

"It's wrong for his daughter to stay in such a place alone with that frail child, Marc," protested Robert earnestly.

Evelyn looked up from her sewing. In her own happiness she thought that her handsome cousin loved the squatter girl had lapsed in her memory. Her eyes went from his troubled face to her husband's. Marc's expression was dark and forbidding, and his full red lips dragged down at the corners! Her heart fluttered at the thought of his rage if by chance he got an inkling of her duplicity.

"The huzzy won't be there long, my friend," returned Marcus, gritting his teeth. "I've a plan to put her out with the rest. Why you stand by those people has always puzzled me, Percival."

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders From The Pennsylvania State College.

Dairy Pastures—Pasture will soon be here. Dairymen should be careful not to cut off the grain supply too suddenly when the cows are turned into pasture as the early grass is very watery. Cows giving twenty or thirty pounds of milk daily should receive some grain in addition to pasture.

Are the Hens Paralyzed?—Many farmers are reporting cases of egg-laying hens being paralyzed. This is a result of insufficient exercise and lack of green food. A dose of epsom salts at the rate of one pound to the hundred birds, fed in a moist mash, is a good measure.

Garden Fertilizer—A good fertilizer for the garden is manure turned under and acid phosphate applied broadcast and raked or cultivated at the rate of one pound to fifty square feet, or 800 pounds per acre.

Silo Care—Painting the inside walls of the wood stave silo with linseed oil every two years will aid greatly in prolonging its period of usefulness. A lead paint of any kind should never be used on the inside walls of any silo because of the possibility of the lead being dissolved by the silage acids and causing poisoning of the cattle.

Preparing Wool for Market—The condition in which wool is put on the market is a factor in selling it at a good price. The wool should be tied with paper twine, instead of binder twine. All tags should be remover from the fleece before it is tied. Wool put up in good shape will always sell for much more money and pay well for additional labor.

A COMMUNITY MEETING

The Highland Township Community Association will hold its second meeting Friday of this week at Hammers' Hall. Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held and a program of music, recitations and dialogues will be given. The speaker of the evening will be Professor Edwin Rice, of the Arendtsville Vocational School. The meeting is open to the public.

Don't worry and complain about a bad back. Get rid of that pain and lameness! Use Doan's Kidney Pills. Many Gettysburg people have used them and know how effective they are. Herde's a Gettysburg case.

C. B. Strausbaugh, retired farmer, 204 W. High St., says: "Six years ago I caught a cold which had me feeling lame and weak. When I stooped a little too much there was a kind of stitch that took me in the middle of my back. I was troubled with lameness in my kidneys every morning. Backache had me all out of shape and it didn't take much work to sap my strength. My kidneys were so weak I could hardly control them. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and a few boxes which I got from the Peoples Drug Store corrected all these troubles and put my kidneys in good shape."

SCOTT WAS A HIGH SCORER

Glenn Bream Also Made Mark In Interscholastic League During the Past Season.

Although Gettysburg finished in the second division, two local players hold individual scores which place them among the first ten in the Central Pennsylvania Interscholastic League, according to the final result just announced. Scott occupies the sixth position in league scoring with a total of 122 points, having to his credit sixteen field goals and ninety fouls. Glenn Bream, captain-elect of the team for next year, is tenth in the list with a total of seventy eight points. However, he is third highest man in the league in the matter of goals from the field, having piled up thirty nine two-pointers during the past season.

Gettysburg High made a good showing in the past season, the first that they have been in the Interscholastic League, against teams representing places many times larger than this place and with prospects for a strong team next season much better results are anticipated. Following are the individual scores of the Interscholastic League:

BIGLER EASY WINNER

Shuts Out York Springs In Opening Game.

Biglerville High applied the kalsomine brush to York Springs High in the opening game of the season played at Biglerville on Tuesday evening. The upper countians walloped the pill for thirteen hits and these netted as many runs.

A soggy field slowed up the playing of both teams considerably. Minter pitched well for Biglerville, being steady and fanning ten. He only allowed a single hit. A. Livingston getting a single in the third frame.

G. Bushey was hit freely and timely. He played an excellent fielding game, however, and by his good work kept the score down. Kennedy at first played a bang-up game for York Springs.

The line-up follows:

DOCTORS MADE IT FAMOUS

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Has Been Prescribed by Physicians for Thirty Years.

Doctors wanted iron in a form easily absorbed into the blood and it was one of them, Dr. A. Gude, who found the way to give it. It is now sold by druggist everywhere—almost every druggist in the United States has Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form. Doctors everywhere advise weak and run-down people to build up with this splendid tonic. It puts color into the cheeks and increases strength and vitality by making the blood rich and red, and that is the only true and sure way to keep well. If you are tired out and nervous and feel half sick and "cross," take Gude's Pepto-Mangan for a few weeks at meal time and you will feel like a new being. It is a wonderful tonic, and you will be delighted with the results.

How a Professional Strong Man Was Knocked Out

Hans Jahn Says Sanalt Put Him Back In the Ring

Mr. Hans Jahn is one of the famous Three Jahns, strong men and gymnasts, who during the Summer of 1921 gave hair-raising and extremely dangerous performances on perches way up near the top of the big tent. Their performances demand great strength as well as wonderful agility, and for four weeks their act was greatly hampered by the fact that Mr. Hans Jahn was confined to a hospital with pneumonia. But the few words he uses in a letter to a friend tell the story convincingly. He says:—
"I must let you know the great benefit I have got from Sanalt, the Sensible Tonic, and advise you to use it whenever you need anything to build you up after a sick spell. Early in the season I was taken sick with pneumonia and the Barnum & Bailey Circus had to leave me in Massachusetts, where I spent four weeks in a hospital. At last I joined the Show in Ohio, but was very weak and hardly able to perform. Then one of my friends with the Circus recommended Sanalt. I have taken a little more than one bottle. I am feeling fine and gaining strength every day. It has brought back my appetite and I shall soon be as heavy and muscular as ever. I cannot say too much for this wonderful tonic."
It generally happens that one who has suffered a severe illness finds that the blood is weak and the stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels are sluggish. Sanalt makes rich, red blood and sets all the organs to working vigorously and freely.
Any enterprising druggist will sell you Sanalt.

"You know it's Atlantic!"

Performance!
tells the story of ATLANTIC superiority

Speed when you want it, power when you need it—dependable performance always! That is the story you get from Atlantic Gasoline, no matter where or when you buy it.

Atlantic has range! It isn't simply a fair-weather gasoline. Its long and uniform "chain of boiling points" gives it all the elements for action and all the elements for power required to meet every speed, load, temperature or other operating condition.

You need no scientific analysis to discover Atlantic's absolute day-in-and-day-out superiority as a fuel for present-day motors. Performance will tell you that!

Starting will prove that Atlantic vaporizes and ignites easily. Getaway, pickup and hill climbing will show that Atlantic is packed with stamina. Mileage and the long-continued, carbonless smoothness of your motor will give you positive evidence that Atlantic burns completely—that every possible heat-containing fraction is developed into live, wheel-turning energy.

cigars were served to the visitors. The formation of a county firemen's association, is part of an effort which has been talked of by local firemen for several months. It is their idea to bring about closer co-operation between the departments of the county and also bring about a keener interest in fire matters within the various companies. The matter of membership in the State Firemen's Association has also been given considerable attention and departments in the county which do not have membership in that body are being persuaded of the advantages that it has for the firemen, both social and in the development of the fire fighting forces. The insurance plan of this body in itself is well worth considering and brings forth deep consideration wherever it is explained. Locally, the organization of a county association would have a good effect on the various organizations and instill a deeper interest in the development of the home companies as a friendly rivalry is developed.

MOTHER ADMITS
MURDERING BABY

Shippensburg Woman's Only Reason For Act Is She Did Not Want It.

Kissing her five-week-old child, Earl, good-bye, Mrs. Mary C. Woods, of Shippensburg, placed the child in a basket hidden in a clump of bushes half a mile outside of Shippensburg, Thursday night, and left it there to die of starvation, according to her confession to the police Monday. After hiding the child she came to police headquarters and reported to Chief George W. Kline that the child had been kidnapped while she was away from the house for a few minutes. An immediate search in which the entire town participated was started but proved of no avail.

The fact that Mrs. Woods apparently ceased to worry about the child after reporting the kidnapping, led the police to suspect her. They accordingly began to question her but until Monday when she broke down and admitted the affair to Chief Kline were unsuccessful.

Following her confession, Mrs. Woods took the authorities to a stone quarry outside of town and showed them the body of her child. The body was brought to this city and an autopsy will be performed. Mrs. Woods told the authorities that before abandoning the child she fed and kissed it.

WANTS CONCRETE ROAD

Declaring that Hanover is getting nothing out of the $2,500,000 roads loan, authorized by the voters of the entire county, Dr. Charles A. Keagy, of Hanover, has renewed his efforts relative to the improving of the Carlisle 'pike from Hanover municipal limits to the Adams county line by laying a reinforced concrete paving on the stretch, about one and a half miles in length. Dr. Keagy says he is simply asking for this "measly little piece of road out of Hanover". He is president of the York County Commissioners.

WINTER SPRING SUMMER FALL

SAVE-install ARCOLA
this month - NOW

TODAY, do this one little thing that costs nothing. Pick up the telephone, call your Steamfitter or Plumber and say: "What is the price of ARCOLA with an American Radiator in each room in my house, installed NOW?"

Remember to say, "installed NOW." The NOW is important. The diagram at the top of the page shows why.

The crowd waits until it is cold in the Fall before installing heating equipment; then everybody wants his ARCOLA installed at the same time. You save yourself time, worry and money if you order in the Spring. ARCOLA costs less this month, NOW, than ever before in its history.

Your Steamfitter is waiting for that Telephone Call

Don't hesitate for fear of wasting your Steamfitter's time. He has much more time NOW than he will have next Fall when the rush season starts in. He is waiting for your telephone call; waiting to show you these three great ARCOLA advantages:

1. ARCOLA, installed in one room, is connected by pipes to an American Radiator in every other room. No more cold rooms; no spotty heat.

2. ARCOLA gives the same healthful radiator warmth that florists have in their greenhouses. Dry hot air is bad for flowers and families too.

3. ARCOLA does pay for itself in the fuel it saves. Thousands of owners have proved it.

AMERICAN RADIATOR COMPANY
IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators for every heating need

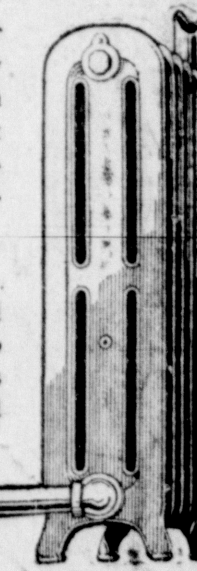

1711 Chestnut Street
Philadelphia, Pa.

This is ARCOLA—a boiler and radiator combined. It is so handsome that you can install it in the living room—or in the kitchen, or down cellar if you prefer.

An American Radiator like this stands in every room, connected with ARCOLA. ARCOLA can heat the kitchen tank, too, supplying hot water for family use.

FREE A beautiful ARCOLA book will be mailed to you if you will send your name to the address above; and remember—your Steamfitter's estimate costs you nothing. Make that telephone call today, NOW.

Wooltex Coats and Suits for Eastertide

Have you bought that coat or suit for Easter and the many other Spring and Summer uses you can put it to? A Spring coat or suit is one of the most serviceable garments you can buy. Cool days of early Spring, cool nights during the Summer, automobile trips and other traveling, all call for a light weight coat, or smartly tailored suit.

Our stock is most complete. You will find in it coats and suits for any use you expect to subject it to, Sport, Dress, and Street wear. The Wooltex labels guarantee you all wool fabrics, and the best tailoring possible as well as up to the minute styles. You can never go wrong with a WOOLTEX garment.

Two Captivating Models

LEFT

2460. This is a Poirer twill box coat that will delight the younger girl and will be equally becoming to the smaller woman. The embroidery in black and tan which extends around the bottom of the coat and trims the bell sleeves makes it exceptionally beautiful—a real vanity suit. It has a notched tuxedo collar and a wide sash, belting in the front of the coat.

RIGHT

4440. Straight lines such as this are so smart in the versatile coat for Spring. The low waist line which so many of the coats display is suggested by the belt that extends across the back only. The fancy pockets decorated with silk stitching and the fine fabrics used make the coat exceedingly good for dress wear.

STATE CHAMBER MEETING

Will Be Held In Harrisburg On Thursday.

Businessmen representing commercial organizations in many sections of the State are expected to be in Harrisburg next Thursday for the conference called by the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce. Definite plans for the meeting have just been announced by the state organization.

Alba B. Johnson, president of the State Chamber, will preside and will present to the conference a number of projects of State interest which affect business progress in Pennsylvania. Subjects to be taken up include the State budget, assessment and collection of local taxes, city zoning, borough annexation, home rule and agricultural matters.

The State budget question will be presented in the form of an outline of the work done by the State chamber's committee on this subject. The report will deal with the question of a change in the system of handling State finances and will present alternative plans to bring this about.

President Johnson will urge extension of the powers of the State Banking Department to give it supervision and control over stock brokerage houses and similar concerns and the enactment of "blue sky" legislation will be urged. The local tax collection problem will be presented by John H. Fertig of the Legislative Commission investigating the subject.

City zoning will be discussed by E. J. Stackpole, of Harrisburg, former president of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce. Borough annexation will be discussed by several officials, among them Frank P. Cummings, city solicitor of Williamsport. The municipal home rule amendment will be discussed by Colonel F. P. Shoemaker, city solicitor of Bradford.

A general consideration of projects of State-wide importance also is planned and several subjects will be submitted by delegates from accredited organizations. Later resolutions will be drafted by a representative committee for submission to the conference and the directors of the State chamber.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PROSECUTE

All Dog Owners Who Have Not Secured Licenses.

Instructions to field agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, to vigorously prosecute all dog owners in the State who have not secured their 1922 licenses, were mailed out within the past week.

With the State divided into ten districts and an agent in charge of each district, the prosecutions will be started simultaneously in practically every county.

The agents, so far this year have been largely engaged in making a survey of conditions. Sufficient warning has been given the dog owners of the State to enable them to comply fully with the requirements of the Dog Law and the ones who have failed to comply with the law will now be sought out.

Several hundred prosecutions already brought by the agents have resulted in the imposition of a minimum fine of $5 and the costs, while the defendant, in addition, is compelled to secure the proper license for his dog.

Within the next sixty days the number of prosecutions entered will run into the thousands, unless there is a decided change in the attitude toward the dog law that many of the owners have assumed.

PROPOSALS FOR SUPPLIES

The Directors of the Poor and House of Employment for the County of Adams will receive at their office in the Steward's building, Alms-house, until Tuesday, the 2nd day of May, 1922, at one o'clock, P. M., sealed proposals for furnishing the following supplies:

GEAR UP AND TONE UP

You'll hardly want a disconnected gear in your Spring Apparel. You don't want to be off the style speed in model, texture or pattern in your spring suit. You'll want to tone up to quality and distinctiveness, too. We're ready to make correct quality, style and value certain.

There's a vast difference between "Jazz" styles and the refined style of the well-groomed young gentlemen. We've brought out that difference very effectively, very cleverly, very obviously—refinement without flamboyancy—distinctive new styles without obtrusiveness. It gives a man the appearance of toning up on quality without toning up on price.

For Easter and the New Season —a Suit or Coat by Printz

The new season brings its various needs and in the selection of suits and coats by Printz now on display here, you will find just the model for your need.

Our showing includes a wide variety of styles-smart sport clothes that speak of youth and charm; more dignified tailors for street and afternoon wear.

The fabrics are beautiful this season. Natty tweeds and exquisite Trelaine, the new brushed wool fabric; tricotine and twill, always so neatly dependable.

As always in Printz models, the lines are irreproachably correct, the design refined, the tailoring perfect.

Printz models are developed with certain types in mind and we are prepared to advise you in selecting the right model for your figure.

Our showing of suits and coats by Printz, as well as other designs, and all the accompaniments of dress are here in Easter array for your choosing. We hope you will take advantage of the completeness of our stock by coming within the next few days.
